BIG BUSINESS IS A HELP TO SALE OF BONDS HERE

LARGER BUSINESS FIRMS IN COUNTY HELP IN WAR LOAN

Some of the larger business firms and organizations represented in Putnam county have helped appreciably in the county's effort to achieve its $900,000 goal in purchase of Bonds in the Fourth War Loan drive.

Largest of these purchases was that of DePauw University with its aggregate amount of $175,000.

Twenty thousand dollars worth of bonds was allocated to Putnam county by the Public Service Company of Indiana, and a like amount was purchased in this county by Montgomery-Ward.

The American Zinc Division is credited with a purchase of $10,000 and the Pennsylvania Railroad has bought in the same denomination.

The First Putnam County National Farm Loan Association, through Lynn Brown, its local secretary, has purchased $7,000 in War Bonds. The J. C. Penney Co., has allocated a $4,000 portion of its nation-wide ten million dollar purchase to the local drive. A similar amount was credited here to the Indiana Associated Telephone Corporation.

The Greencastle Production Credit Corporation has purchased Bonds in Putnam county to the extent of $3,500. There is a possibility of several additional sales to be made to "big business" and Mr. Vermillion says that most of these sales will be allocated to the townships in which these firms do business.

ENIWETOK AIRSTRIP IS MARSHALLS' OBJECTIVE

Jap planes can be seen on this huge airstrip on Eniwetok island in the northwest section of the Marshalls, one of the objectives of American invasion forces. Construction, unlike hurried wartime building, shows permanent nature of defenses the Japs erected while islands were governed under a League of Nations mandate. Official U. S. Navy Photo. Gen. Ulio Writes Mrs. Noble Webster

Mrs. Noble Webster has received the following letter from Maj. Gen. J. A. Ulio with regard to the injuries received by her brother, Harold R. Brown, during the invasion of Italy.

It is with profound regret that I must confirm my recent telegram in which you were informed that your brother was wounded.

It may be comforting to you to know that our soldiers are given the best possible medical care by some of the country's finest doctors assigned to the many excellent hospitals maintained at our overseas bases.

In order that mail may reach him as soon as possible, you should use the following temporary address until such time as a change of address is furnished by him or this office:

SATIRIST WILL PERFORM

Henry Scott, concert satirist, will perform in Meharry Hall at 7:00 Sunday evening, in a program of swing, impressions of bands, rumbas, tangos, boogie-woogie, and original compositions.

An educator of note recently remarked that Mr. Scott's "unique concert is the greatest single contribution to the advancement of music appreciation in our generation." He is bringing new audiences of music appreciators to the concert auditorium because of his combination of serious music with good entertainment.

Cpl. William Ader Writes

The following is the copy of a letter Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ader received from their son that is in India. His address is Cpl. Wm. C. Ader, 15104921, 63rd M. R. U., A. P. O. 885, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y. Dear Mom and Dad,

I hope that every Christmas in India will be as nice as this one was. We had a swell time. We were off Christmas Day, which was something, because days off here are rare. We had a party Christmas Eve. The building was decorated and although there was no snow on the ground it did seem as if it were Christmas. We drew names including our officers. There were some very nice gifts, especially due to the scarcity of buying places. There aren't many Woolworth or department stores here. We played games and yours truly won first prize, which was a pair of leather sandals. We had beer, real American beer, punch, cake and sandwiches. There was singing and don't think that a bunch of fellows can't make a noise.

There were two colonels at the party and they seemed to enjoy it also. Most of us went to church at midnight. The church was packed.

Christmas morning I was sleeping soundly when I was awakened by the booming of drums in my ears. There was a native band, if you can call them such, going through each barracks, waking the fellows and asking for "buckness" which in India means a hand out. They could only play one piece and they never stopped playing. They were dressed in bright clothes and would yell Merry Christmas and "buckness" at the same time.

There was no use trying to go back to sleep so we got up and played cards until dinner.

The bearers had made flower leis for all the men. They were very colorful and very well made. Our bear was getting married that day, his fourth wife. He is 22 or 23 years old, he wasn't sure which. We all gave him a package of cigarettes.

After about an hour waiting in line, we ate dinner served in the day room. They had it decorated also. Such a feed you never saw before. I think they had everything possible to eat: turkey, cranberry sauce, peas, corn, potatoes, squash, tomatoes, spinach, salad, grape fruit juice, oranges, bananas, nuts, candy, cake, pie and other things.

I left with my stomach and pockets filled as they said to clean things up. I haven't recovered as yet. After dinner we walked to the stadium and saw Joe E. Brown, who put on his show for the men of this area. It was very good. Everyone, Englishmen and Americans got a big kick out of the show. So ended our Christmas and as you can see it was a fine Christmas in the G. B. I. theater. I had better go to bed.

Good bye,

Wm. Ader.

Only '44 Plates Needed On Cars

Rue J. Alexander, secretary of state, yesterday reminded Hoosier motorists that the 1944 automobile license plate is not a tab but a regular license and must be displayed singly.

He said his attention had been called to many instances of automobile owners affixing the 1944 plate to the 1942 license, as was required for the small tab issued for 1943. In some cases, he said, automobiles are carrying a collection of rear license plates for 1942, 1943 and 1944.

Only the new plate, which must be obtained before the Feb. 29 dead line, is necessary and the other two years' licenses should be removed, Mr. Alexander said.

Postwar problems in education were discussed by Dr. Clyde E. Wildman, president of DePauw University, at the opening session of the annual two-day meeting of the Indiana City and Town Superintendents' Association in the Hotel Lincoln yesterday.

Election of officers and an address by Dr. Clement T. Malan, state superintendent of public instruction, will high light this morning's session.

The afternoon session yesterday heard two speakers, "Preparing High School Pupils to Enter the Armed Forces," by R. F. Robinson, principal of Washington High School in East Chicago, and Capt. George L. Fahey, A. G. D., chief of the pre-induction training brigade at Fort Hayes.

Seek Showdown On Federal Ballot Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (UP)—Senate administration leaders, encouraged by their defeat of a move to restrict use of Federal ballots for absentee soldier voting, sought a showdown today with the Republican-southern Democrat coalition seeking to limit voting to regular state ballots.

The Senate met for an extraordinary Saturday session in response to administration demands for an early decision on the soldier vote issue.

Senate Democratic leader Alben W. Barkley, D. Ky., hoped he could place the Senate on record for a Federal ballot before nightfall and shunt the issue back to the House of Representatives which rejected the administration proposal by a margin of 51 votes in a turbulent session Thursday night.

State ballot advocates doubted, however, that the Senate would reach final action on the measure before Monday. A limitation on debate adopted two days ago would preclude an extended filibuster as long as the Senate is considering amendments to the pending Green-Lucas Federal Ballot Bill.

Local Club Buys Ambulance Plane

In a recent drive for the purchase of ambulance planes, bonds bought by the members of the Greencastle Business and Professional Women's Club and anyone buying bonds and willing for the credit of the purchase to go to the local club, paid for an ambulance plane.

When the plane drive started last September it was the hope of the Business and Professional Women's clubs of Indiana to purchase one plane, the cost of which was $110,000. When the drive ended on December 1, 1943 forty-two planes had been purchased by the clubs throughout the state. Miss Elizabeth Ward was chairman of the Greencastle club.

A plaque with the following inscription which is now on display in Prevo's store window will be placed on the plane: Ambulance Plane Presented to The United States Army by the Business and Professional Women's Club, Greencastle, Indiana. Through Purchase of War Bonds.

Veterans' Pay Bill Is Signed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—President Roosevelt's signature on mustering-out pay legislation Friday guaranteed veterans of World War II cash payments to help them make the adjustment from military to civilian life.

The law provides from $100 to $300 for each eligible veteran. Mustering-out pay of World War I amounted to about $60. This new scale and the commensurately higher number of military personnel in this war will cost the nation approximately $3,000,000,000.

There already have been 1,300,000 discharges since Pearl Harbor. These servicemen may apply now to the War and Navy departments for their mustering-out pay. Within thirty days of the application it is to be acted upon.

As he signed the bill Mr. Roosevelt urged Congress to move full speed ahead on other proposals he has made for aiding the servicemen upon (Continued on Page 2)

Solution Hoped For In Spanish Crisis

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (UP)—Officials hoped today for an early solution of the current crisis in United States-Spanish relations which will permit continued Allied aid to Spain's internal economy without allowing the Axis to reap any benefit.

There is no intention now, it was said in responsible quarters, to force severance of relations between Madrid and the Axis or to threaten a breach in diplomatic relations between the government of Generalissimo Francisco Franco and the western powers.

President Roosevelt presented the official attitude at his news conference yesterday when he said he hoped that, through combined United States and British representations, Spain would be kept in a truly neutral position.

SEC. WALLACE SPEAKS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5 (UP)—The central problem of post-war democracy for labor, business and agriculture will be "to work together without slipping into an American Fascism," Vice President Henry A. Wallace said in an address here last night.

A post-war struggle among "big business, big labor and big agriculture" might bring Fascism to this country, he warned in a speech at a Win-the-War rally in Shrine auditorium in which he predicted a "serious conflict of the Big Three" unless they all recognize "the superior claims of the general welfare of the common man."

Wallace's address, the first of three to be given on the west coast was broadcast over a nationwide radio network.

"Such recognition of the general welfare must be genuine, must be more than a polite mouthing of high-sounding phrases," the Vice President said.

AMERICAN HEAVY GUNS BLAST JAP ISLAND DEFENSES

BATTLESHIPS, CRUISERS SHELL ENEMY ON SOUTH TIP OF KWAJALEIN ATOLL

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Feb. 5 (UP)—The big guns of American battleships and cruisers joined planes and land artillery today in a heavy new bombardment designed to crush desperate but dwindling Japanese resistance on four islands at the southeastern corner of Kwajalein Atoll in the Marshalls.

Army veterans of the 7th Division under Maj. Gen. Charles H. Corlett, with half of Kwajalein and Ebeye islands in their hands, were expected momentarily—if they have not already done so—to swarm ashore on nearby Loi and Gugugwe islands, believed the only other strong pockets of resistance in the 66-mile long atoll.

Two small islets between Kwajalein and Ebeye also have been occupied following the smashing of "moderate resistance." Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Commander of the Pacific Fleet, disclosed in a communique late yesterday.

(A Japanese communique broadcast in English by the Domei Agency said garrisons on Roi and Kwajalein islands had "repulsed part of the enemy force which landed" and now were "firmly holding the defense sector.") An earlier Tokyo radio broadcast of the communique in Spanish had asserted that the Japanese were battling the "remaining" invasion forces on the two islands "with control of the situation having been assured." Roi actually was captured on the second day of the invasion.)

The American warships, some of which already were inside the huge Kwajalein lagoon, together with carrier and land-based aircraft and mobile field guns, sought to duplicate in the south the devastation that paved the way for the Americans' speedy capture of Roi and Namur islands at the northeastern corner of the atoll.

Sixteen-inch shells and one-ton atoll-buster bombs were being used in an attempt to pulverize pillboxes and underground emplacements in which the Japs were entrenched for a last-man stand.

SHOOT GERMAN RESCUE PLANES FROM THE SKY

MOSCOW, Feb. 5 (UP)—Red Air force fighters and fighter-bombers shot German rescue planes out of the Ukrainian sky like setting duck today while ground forces hastened the doom of 100,000 or more encircled enemy troops with a terrific artillery barrage and new advances from all sides.

(The London Daily Mail reported from Stockholm that 50,000 of the original 100,000 encircled German troops already have been annihilated.)

Gens. Nikolai, F. Vatutin and Ivan S. Konev of the 1st and 2nd Ukrainian armies appeared determined to destroy completely the trapped German units, if only to advance the German massacre of their countrymen in Kiev, Smolensk and other key Soviet cities.

Unlike the Soviet command at Stalingrad, the two generals made no calls for the Germans' surrender.

LETTER FROM ENGLAND

Mrs. Bert Whitlock, Greencastle Route 2, has received the following letter from a Mrs. Althorpe in Northamptonshire, England, telling of a visit of Mrs. Whitlock's husband in the Althorpe home.

Dear Mrs. Whitlock: I guess you will be surprised to hear from me, but my husband met your husband and brought him to stay for a night, as he had night out of camp. He wanted me to write you as you wished to know where he was in England. He is not in Kettering, but not far away. It is beautiful country here in summer, a bit dreary now.

We had a very enjoyable time while your husband was here. He played with my young son (age 3) and he went to look over the factory where my husband works, to see how boots and shoes are made. We are hoping he will come see us again. I told him he would always be welcome. We give a welcome to any American soldier we can, as we are that you would welcome any of our boys.

Wishing you the very best of luck in 1944 and hoping it will not be long before your husband is home again.

Yours Sincerely, Mrs. Althorpe.

Expert Victory Gardeners Asked to Assist Amateurs

Did your last year's Victory Garden crop set the production pace in your area? If so, you should lend a hand in the gardening problems of your less experienced neighbors, whose crops of radishes and weeds looked a bit sickly in comparison with your flourishing homegrown supply of edibles, the U. S. Department of Agriculture urges.

In many a neighborhood last year, it is reported, seasonal gardeners raised from two to five times as much food as the man next door who tried just as hard but couldn't get results. Although many of the old time gardeners are glad to help, they hesitate to offer advice unless asked. And the Victory Garden headquarters of the Department of Agriculture strongly recommends that local Victory Garden committees everywhere assist in the asking.

The burden on transportation and food production last year was substantially eased by the output of 20 million Victory Gardens. Cooperation this year to boost the output would go a long way in lessening the pinch of the current manpower shortage on the home front.—(Science News Letter, January 15, 1944).

PUREBRED MARE BOUGHT BY WELL KNOWN FARMER

Donald Webster of Greencastle, has purchased the purebred Percheron Linda Lou 242821 from Alva D. Webster, of Crawfordsville, Ind. This black two-year-old mare is by St. Marchelle, and out of Pearl a daughter of Grand Laet and a descendant of Carnova V International Grand Champion mare.

Linda Lou is a descendant also of the noted International Grand Champion Carnot the $40,000 stallion.

Mr. Webster is another among the increasing number of Indiana farmers who are buying Percherons and meeting the shortage in gas and tires. Indiana is second in the list of states having the greatest number of Percherons sold in 1943.

According to Ellis McFarland, secretary of the Percheron Horse Association of America, horse sales in the United States brought approximately one and one-half million dollars in 1943, indicating that there is profit in horses and that breeders are planning for post-war horsepower replacement.

Information Bulletin BY GREENCASTLE COUNCIL of CLUBS

On February 6, at 7 p. m. in McHarry Hall, DePauw University will present the second in its Lecture Artist Series, Henry Scott. This young artist is a concert satirist. Concert satire is based on the theory that humor has a place in the concert hall as well as on the stage. In a series of numbers entitled, "A Great Concert Pianist," "Chopin in the Citrus Belt," "Little Boy Genius Grows Up," "Rhythm at Any Cost," and "Mittens on the Keys," Mr. Scott will assail some of the foibles, follies and amiable weaknesses of the music world. In "A Great Concert Pianist," Scott will poke fun at his fellow artists. Some of the mannerisms of the concert platform will come in for a good natured expose. In "Little Boy Genius Grows Up," he will review the progress of a spoiled darling at the keyboard from the time of his first recital at the age of five through his progress to the age of eighty-five. "Rhythm at Any Cost," and "Mittens on the Keys" will make use of his peculiar trademark, the mitten. In these productions he demonstrates dexterity and accuracy with his hands and wrists heavily swathed in loose woolen mittens.

In the classical section of his program, he plays most acceptably some of the works of Scarlatti, Chopin and Liszt. During this portion of the program, he throws in various "remarks" while he plays.

In another section of his program, he does something for the swing fans with his conception of the styles of Bob Zurke, Teddy Wilson, Vincent Lopez, Count Basie and Eddie Duchin. An orange, a balloon, a candle, a pair of heavy mittens, a wig, and a piano constitute the "props."

Scott established the world's record for speed and accuracy on the keyboard in 1937 by playing 44 2/3 notes per second in a very rapid passage based on Liszt's Second Hungarian Rhapsody.

In addition to his reputation as a music satirist, Scott is a good musician in his right. He has appeared most successfully at the United States Naval Academy, West Point Military Academy, the University of Minnesota, the University of Texas, Michigan State College, University of Wyoming, University of Nebraska, Colgate, Purdue, and at the New York, Detroit and Kansas City Town Halls.

The commanding officer at the Naval Academy says of his performance, "His excellent showmanship and riotous humor were so thoroughly enjoyed by the midshipmen that they shouted for encores. He does a real service by showing respect for music and at the same time leaving it with delightful wit."

Dr. Van Denman Thompson has heard him and gives his unqualified approval of Scott both as a musician and a satirist. The University is presenting an evening of entertainment before the final examination period opens. The entire community is urged to attend. No admission charge.

The next regular meeting of the Greencastle Council of Clubs will be February 29 at 7:30 p. m. in the High School building. Council members, presidents and committee members from the affiliated groups are urged to attend. Watch this column for further information concerning the nature of this meeting.

The next meeting of the Greencastle Junior Council of Clubs will be held Thursday, February 10, immediately after school is adjourned.

The Education Committee of the Council of Clubs met Monday evening with Mrs. Lois Arnold, Mrs. Charles Hutcheson, chairman of the committee, presided. The president of the Council attended as an ex-officio member. Those attending as coordinators were: Lois Arnold, Mayor Walter Ballard and Supt. Maurice Stapley. Two hours were spent discussing questions of vital importance to the entire community. Time did not permit for more than a glance at plans for some suggested programs, but the three questions—"A Recreation Program," "A School Lunch Program," and "Uses of a Centralizing Unit" were discussed somewhat in detail.

CHURCH SERVICES

THE SPIRITUAL BORN CHURCH

The spiritual born church stands today for every principle that makes for the success not only of the church but of civilization. We stand for the living God; we stand for a God consciousness which is the background of respect for law. When the fear of God is gone from the people's hearts they will no longer have respect for government. We stand for a world Saviour; we stand for the Bible; we stand for the whole Bible; we stand for an immutable Bible; we stand for the home, for the church of Jesus Christ; we stand for law enforcement. We are against the vacillating, corrupt politicians who would sacrifice the principles of civilization for expediency, for position, for selfish glory. We stand for the men and women in this and all nations that put principles before selfishness, that put right before personal advantage. We stand for that man or woman in this and all nations who would die for the declaration of independence, for the constitution, for the spirit of freedom.

We believe as a church in contributing our part to Christianity, therefore to the existence of civilization. In the preaching of Christ, we are aiding world peace and bringing of Christ and humanity together. To the things we ever commit ourselves and march forward like an army with banners as bright as the sun, as fair as the moon; looking unto Jesus, Christ, the author and finisher of our faith, the great leader, who has never been defeated in battle nor suffered His banner to trail in the dust of humiliation and defeat.

Rev. Stanley Smith, pastor.

This Sunday will be an important day for Maple Heights. Of course the first item which makes it so important is the fact that we have a furnace all installed and "raring to go" so that we can once more hold our worship services in the church.

The second item is the large attendance we are going to have Sunday morning at 10:00 sharp when the combined Sunday school and church service begins. We just have to forget everything else and go to Sunday school this Sunday! We want people in all the classes, including the grown up class. The third item which makes this Sunday so important is that the first worship service for some time will be held in the church Sunday night at 7:30. We will have good singing led by Shirley Madsen, a college student, a special number, prayer, and a sermon by the pastor. Come on time and we will dismiss by 8:45.

CATHOLIC INFORMATION

Is Catholic reasoning unreasonable? It is reasonable to expect reasoning people to believe things that are unreasonable? Of course it isn't! The Catholic Church has no such expectation. On the contrary it claims that it teaches nothing which conflicts with human reason.

A rather startling statement, perhaps, when one is told that the Catholic priest has power to change bread and wine into the body and blood of Christ. Surely this must be taken on faith.

Yes, on faith! But what is faith? It is not reason carried to a higher plane—a supernatural plane? Let's reason it out.

Everyone knows of the measureless universe—and of the germ of life in a poppy seed. But the finite mind is powerless before an explanation of the origin of either. There fore human reason which insists on a cause for every effect, must admit of its own limitations and become reasonable enough to acknowledge a superhuman cause for the beginning of everything; and that cause must be God.

Here, then, by human reasoning, we have arrived at an all creative God. Reasoning a little further, we must concede that if God is all-creative, He must be all-powerful—another way of stating that He can do anything.

All right! God can do anything. Therefore, He can give power to a priest to bring down from Heaven His Own Divine Son in the Blessed Sacrament of the Eucharist. He CAN. All reason makes us concede this. The next question is did He? which, although a matter of fact-finding, is from the Catholic viewpoint, also a matter of reasoning.

The Bible tells us that Christ, at the Last Supper, changed bread and wine into His own body and blood, thus establishing the sacrament of which He said: "Except you eat of the flesh of the son of man and drink His blood, you shall not have life in you."

Now for some more reasoning. Did Christ provide this life-giving grace for but twelve men, leaving all other men of future ages without life in them? Catholic reasoning says that this would be most unreasonable and most unjust. Therefore the Catholic has ever believed that when Christ said: "Do this in commemoration of me," He, with the utmost reason and justice, gave the power of consecration, not merely to those present at the Supper, but to their successors through the ages; and these successors form the Catholic priesthood.

This, dear friend, is Catholic reasoning. Can you say that it is unreasonable?

When service men fail to make a machine run, they report to the designer of the machine; because he designed it, he can repair it. When man fails to live right, then he needs to call in the Designer. Because God designed man, he can "fix him up."

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Christian fellowship in the church of one's choice and a larger fellowship with Christians in all churches in the need of the hour. Christian fellowship as practiced by our boys in the armed services ought to make a strong appeal for an increased and enlarged Christian fellowship at home; it is said that in World War 1, 30 per cent of those in the armed forces prayed while 70 per cent of those at home prayed; but in this war 70 per cent of those in the armed forces are praying while only 30 per cent of those at home are praying. What a disappointment it will be when the boys return home and find such spiritual lethargy in the home folks. Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

Q. Do service men believe in brotherhood as a war aim?
A. "Yes. The ideal of brotherhood is one of the things the soldiers are after in this war, and they are looking forward to seeing it worked out more extensively in their own country."

The average soldier, however, merely says he wants peace. The war has no romance so far as he is concerned. He hates it. But while he wants to get it over as quickly as possible, he does not want to go home until he has finished the job.

"The boys do not think in terms of what should be expected from the church. They are greatly interested in the church and religion, but although they are going to church more than in the past, there has been no such thing as a religious revival. We must be realistic in these things. What has happened is that he soldier has been impressed by the way the church has tried to help him. This will, no doubt, help him to turn to the church after the war. But while he is going to look for the church when he gets back, he has not made up his mind as to what he expects from the church when peace is restored."

GRACE MCANINCH SMEDLEY

"She carried me under her heart
Loved me before I was born,

Took God's hand in hers and walked through the valley of the shadow of death that I might live

Through all the days of my youth, she gave strength for my weakness, Courage for my despair, and hope to fill my hopeless heart.

Though we lay down our lives for her we can never pay the debt we owe to a Christian mother."

Grace McAninch Smedley, youngest child of John W. and Mary Jane McAninch was born in Jefferson Twp., Putnam county, Indiana, January 6, 1891 and departed this life January 28, 1944. She had lived 53 years and 22 days. She was married to James Smedley Sept. 10, 1911 and to this union were born five children, all of whom survive her, Albert of Quonset Point Naval Air Station, Rhode Island, Jewell of Brownsburg, Morris of Floyd township, Mrs. Everett Miller of Brownsburg and Mrs. Charles Hodge of Mt. Meridian.

She grew to young womanhood in Jefferson township where she spent a useful life and made peace with her Savior at an early age and united with the Mill Creek Baptist church where she was a valuable and useful member as long as her health would permit.

She was stricken with a malady about eleven years ago which she fought courageously, and was assisted with the best medical science and hospitalization, but finally lost the battle for life and went to meet her Creator. She was a kind and devoted mother and companion finding no outside interests greater than her love of home and the companionship of her children.

She deemed no task too hard nor sacrifice too great if in their accomplishment she could contribute to the happiness or welfare of those she loved.

Besides her immediate family she leaves to mourn her passing three brothers, Wm. A. McAninch of Bloomington, Reuben of Hillsboro, Oregon, James of Mt. Meridian, and one sister, Mrs. Josephine Hurst of Mt. Meridian, five grandchildren (some of whom she had never seen because of the loss of her eyesight) two sons-in-law, three daughters-in-law and an innumerable number of friends and relatives.

As we look at her today and think of the years of toil and sacrifice, of the words of encouragement and hope of her kind and tender loving sympathy, we want to take her care worn hands and say:

"Such beautiful hands!

Though hearts were weary and sad.
These patient hands kept toiling on
That children might be glad
I almost weep, as looking back,
To childhood's distant day
I think how her hands rested not
While mine were at their play
But oh! Beyond the shadow land,
Where all is bright and fair
I know full well these dear old hands
The palm of victory wear
Where crystal streams through endless time

Flow over golden sands
And where the old grow young again
I'll clasp my mother's hand."
